America at the Crossroads

January 6, 2021

January 6, 2021 is a day that will go down in infamy.

Even worse than 9/11!

On “9/11” America was attacked by a FOREIGN enemy. An Islamic terrorist organization. This enemy destroyed a building.

Nonetheless, this attack did NOT pose an EXISTENTIAL THREAT to America.

On “1/6/21” America was attacked by a DOMESTIC enemy. A Marxist-infected political party. This enemy captured the White House and U.S. Congress.

This attack DOES pose an EXISTENTIAL THREAT to America!

The electoral vote challenge in Congress and the occupation of the Capitol Building will both go down in American history.

The electoral vote challenge was a heroic, even though unsuccessful, last ditch effort by roughly one third of the House of Representatives to block the Marxists.

The tragic and counterproductive occupation of the Capitol is an excuse for Marxist suppression of patriot resistance.

Background

For decades the standard operating procedure for the American voter was this:

Every four years hold your nose and vote for the “lesser of two evils.”

Many people simply refused to participate in this sham and didn’t vote at all.

Both political parties seemed pretty much the

Closing Out the Age of MAGA Innocence

Events in American politics are unfolding rapidly early in this year. No justice could be done in attempting to chronicle the numerous happenings in Washington, D.C. from January 6 to the present, and any specifics would quickly become obsolete between the time this is written and when this issue goes out.

It would take more time and space than we have to enumerate the evidences of election fraud leading up to January 6. We could not detail the developments in the new wave of deplatforming and cancellations after that date without being old news at press time. All these stories are available and well-covered by observers and commentators elsewhere.

What we can conclude and offer in way of an underrepresented observation at this time is that the age of MAGA innocence has now come to a close.

What we can see with the reliable information at hand is that the government is putting even more effort into persecuting attendees at all levels of the protest than it did into those who attended the Unite the Right rally in Charlottesville, Virginia. While Cville organizers remain entangled in legal battles and James Fields serves multiple life sentences for panicking when his car was surrounded by a violent mob, the government in this case appears interested in identifying and prosecuting anyone who was physically present at the Capitol.

Rumors and speculations aside, what we have seen from video evidence is that White House guards and police were letting protestors in, at least in specific locations. Once in, they were not overly destructive, at least in comparison to the George Floyd riots. In the case of these riots, complete with a police precinct burned down and numerous businesses destroyed, the reaction of police and politicians was to kneel before them.

We have seen not only the establishment but the Trumps themselves, in whose name the protest was planned, call for the prosecution of the attendees. Members of Congress have called it an act of insurrection and domestic terror, placing the protestors in the same category as Islamic insurgents attempting to carry out bombings or murders against the United States and its citizens.

And we have seen the death of Ashli Babbitt and the presumption by conservative pundits that "she must have been doing something wrong." We have seen the attempt to dig into her past to smear her by the press, though reported faults are far less than those of the sainted George Floyd: a man who held a gun to a pregnant woman's stomach.

During it all, protestors openly posted selfies on social media, live-streamed their doings, and generally behaved as if they did not feel the need to hide: which may well have some sound basis in reality.

We who saw it from a distance have the benefit not only of hindsight but the "bird's eye view." There is no reason to believe that the people mingling in the crowd had any idea what was being done in all places. On the ground, many would only know that they were entering a public building without resistance by authorities. They would only find out later that they were being accused of the most significant attack on the U.S. government in two centuries.

We see afterwards that the U.S. government is encouraging people to report their family and friends to authorities for investigation. Some have already been fired from their jobs. Dozens have already been arrested. And we have seen some of them reported to the FBI by family members, some of whom elaborated on the grudge they held as they justified their actions.

Some will doubtlessly continue to cling to ever-more-nebulous ideas about 4D-chess and insider organizations pursuing a higher purpose. But the deplatforming and prosecutions of, not only "nazis" but everyday Trump supporters, will serve as blunt evidence that cannot be ignored that in the new reality white Americans are a subordinate class to be abused, defamed, and attacked with impunity. They will do what many of a bent closer to ours have been forced to do under the Trump administration in America and go underground. It is now getting to be almost as dangerous to be a Trump supporter as it was to be a "nazi."

In reality, the future is difficult to predict same.

Sure, they pretended to be “conservative” and “liberal” in order to appeal to different target audiences and get VOTES.

They catered to different, but overlapping, special interest groups in order to get MONEY.

However, their agendas and actions didn’t differ very much.

The vast majority of VOTERS, conservatives and liberal alike, were still loyal Americans, respected each other, and played by the rules of the game.

The special interest groups who FUNDED the politicians simply wanted to make more money.

Not take over the government.

Let alone establish a dictatorship!

The “politician” was widely suspected of being an opportunist seeking money and power.

And a liar who promises everything and delivers nothing.

But this was tolerated as something normal.

Viewed more with humor than with outrage.

But corruption increased.

The political parties started acting more and more like rival criminal gangs.

They competed for booty, but worked together to protect themselves against any serious threat. And to maximize profit. At the expense of the taxpayer.

National debt soared. Hence the decline of the middle class over the last fifty years.

At the same time, “liberal” domination of the media combined with “conservative” naivety and cowardice(!) doomed America to slide to the left.

Slowly at first. Then faster. And finally simply too fast.

The result was radicalization and polarization.

Trump’s Historical Significance

The fact that the “political outsider” Trump

won the 2016 presidential election despite opposition by the mass media and both (!) political parties has huge significance.

Trump achieved this stunning victory by appealing to the healthy populist/patriot instinct of what was once called "the silent majority." This is what terrified and enraged the "establishment"/"system"/"deep state" more than anything else. Americans were starting to WAKE UP and FIGHT BACK.

Unlike "professional politicians" Trump actually tried to deliver what he had promised.

His effort against illegal immigration was sabotaged by the courts and establishment Republicans aka "Rhinos." But the economy did improve.

Despite the unprecedented, relentless, vicious attack by the mainstream media, social media censorship, the pandemic, and the "irregularities" that make 39% (over 100 million!) Americans believe the election was "stolen", Trump still received more votes in 2020 than any other president.

Up until January 6, 2021 he was the front-runner for the 2024 Republican presidential candidate. And probably still is.

His base was stronger than ever. And definitely still is!

Naturally, the Republican Party establishment stooges will now gleefully exploit the Capitol Building incident and attempt to undermine him and the whole MAGA movement.

However, this will expose fake patriots and encourage true patriots to oppose them in future primaries.

The electoral vote challenge has already created a "litmus test."

Likewise any impeachment vote.

More are bound to follow.

Time will tell whether establishment politicians or patriots will dominate the Republican Party.

But one thing is sure:

With or without Trump, the patriot resistance movement he inspired will not simply go away. It will remain a force to be reckoned with.

Obviously, Trump is NOT a National Socialist or "racial nationalist."

Nonetheless, Trump has accelerated the transformation of millions of Americans from passive conservatives into active patriots.

This is an important and absolutely necessary step in the right direction.

It is a stage in an evolutionary process.

Historical Parallels

The American Revolution of 1776

It is important to remember that America's Founding Fathers started out as loyal subjects of the king of England who merely petitioned their king. But they eventually transformed into American revolutionaries, won a war of independence against the global super power of their era, and founded a new country with a brand new form of government!

Note: In the beginning only 5% of Americans supported the revolution. Another 5% percent opposed it. The other 90% were neutral.

Today Trump's base alone constitutes far more than 5% of the population!

Of course, there are also big differences.

Today the enemy is not based outside America in London. The enemy is based inside America in Washington DC, Wall Street, Silicon Valley, and Hollywood. And dominates "our" own government, media, and economy.

This will NOT be an EASY fight!

The American Civil War of 1861-1865

The Civil War was triggered by the election of Abraham Lincoln. Southerners viewed this as a threat to their way of life. They seceded and formed a new country.

The industrial free states in the North fought to preserve the union. The agricultural slave states in the South fought for independence.

The war itself was fought with conventional field armies. It was the bloodiest war in American history. 600,000 killed. More than all other American wars combined.

Fortunately, this kind of war seems unlikely today.

1960's / 1970's

Back then, the two main issues were the Vietnam War and desegregation.

The war ended.

The people most painfully affected by desegregation

This country, with its institutions, belongs to the people who inhabit it. Whenever they shall grow weary of the existing government, they can exercise their constitutional right of amending it, or exercise their revolutionary right to overthrow it.

regation moved away from their now crime-infested “changing neighborhoods”.

Today the suffering is far more widespread. Deeper. Unaccustomed.

Fear reigns.

Trust in the media is long gone.

Confidence in the government is at an all-time low.

Everybody knows:

The government is dysfunctional.

The system is broken.

Germany and Spain

There are also parallels with Weimar Germany. Dysfunctional government, bad economy, polarization/radicalization, civil unrest, new propaganda methods/technology. Fortunately, the anti-Communist revolution was both legal and relatively bloodless.

The Spanish Civil War was triggered by a dubious Red election victory. The Nationalists revolted. This messy and bloody civil war cost Spain nearly 10% of its population.

Patriots versus Marxists

Today the conflict is commonly referred to as “Red State” versus “Blue State”. (Actually, “county” is more accurate than “state.”)

However, the real conflict is primarily ideological. Not geographic.

PRO-American PATRIOTS versus ANTI-American MARXISTS!

PATRIOTS are PRODUCERS. Middle/working class and small business.

MARXISTS are PARASITES. “Ruling class” (Wall Street / Silicon Valley / Hollywood) and “under-class” (on welfare and/or criminal) are allies. The “elites” provide money and the thugs provide muscle.

PATRIOTS are predominantly White. Rural or suburban.

MARXISTS are predominantly Black/Brown/Jewish. Urban. (Unfortunately, many brainwashed Whites provide voters.)

PATRIOTS love America and Western Civilization. Respect traditional values.

MARXISTS hate America and Western Civilization. Despise traditional values.

Marxism is a soul sickness. A spiritual syphilis.

The economic theory of Karl Marx and the political reality of the Soviet Union were only manifestations. As was the French Revolution, which initially inspired the Founding Fathers before they saw the terror hidden behind pretty slogans.

Today the most striking manifestation of Marxism is the man-made(!) mental illness commonly known as “political correctness.”

Symptoms include racial self-hatred and denial of the laws of nature. In extreme cases even the mere existence of gender and race are passionately denied.

This diabolical weapon of psychological warfare is anti-nature, anti-life, and anti-God.

The future of America, Western Civilization, and the White Race are at stake.

America at the Crossroads

Marxist dictatorship or Free Republic?

Third World Hellhole or Civilization?

This conflict cannot be resolved by an election or law or court or “compromise!”

What’s Next?

Will the Marxist-infected Democratic Party’s attempt to change the rules, stack the deck in its favor, consolidate power, and proceed with the Sovietization of America succeed?

Or will this attempt be blocked?

At least slowed down long enough for a comeback in 2022/2024?

Will patriots replace Rhino stooges in primary elections, take back Congress in 2022, and the White House in 2024?

Will Marxist censorship lead to patriot alternative media?

Will anti-trust legal action break Big Tech’s Internet monopoly?

Will patriot businesses and organizations overcome “demonetization?”

Will Red States successfully resist the Marxists?

Perhaps take the position:

If California can defy the federal government (“sanctuary cities”), why can’t patriot states do likewise when it comes to guns or COVID-19?

If the federal government is unwilling or unable to defend America’s borders, why can’t patriot states do this?

Perhaps flatly refuse to recognize the legitimacy of the Marxist/Democrat regime?

Obviously, the federal government would object!

Blue State disobedience was tolerated by the federal government even before the Marxist-infestation became as severe as it is now.

“Jurisdiction” or some other “legal technicality” served as an excuse.

Even the “conservative” U.S. Supreme Court has proven itself unreliable.

One person, one organization, one county, one state alone cannot successfully resist Marxist/federal tyranny.

Will a COALITION OF PATRIOT STATES emerge?

Will the “cold Civil War” get “hot” between now and the 2022 elections?

Who knows?

The Path Forward

Build informal networks.

Support community leaders who are PATRIOTS.

TRUE patriots. Not FAKE patriots.

Not opportunists. Not cowards.

The Marxists have been infiltrating our institutions for decades.

Opportunists and cowards let this happen. They are the biggest threat. They pretend to be on our side. In reality, they sabotage the patriot resistance.

In the past, it was very hard to distinguish between patriots and opportunists.

Fortunately, this is now becoming easier.

We must force candidates for public office to take a side!

Patriots must regain control of their local communities.

First COUNTY and STATE governments.

The FEDERAL government will probably come last. The Marxists and their collaborators have dominated the federal government for many years. Regardless of which party was officially in power. Nonetheless, the patriot resistance must not ignore this front.

What Can You and I Do?

First, think about this.

Talk with your friends, family, and neighbors.

Decide what you are willing and able to do.

Plan a course of action.

Make the necessary preparations.

Then roll up your sleeves and get to work!

Above all,

Do not give up hope.

Do not trust fake patriots.

And do not engage in counterproductive violence or illegalities.

Closing Out the Age of MAGA Innocence

when you do not control the factors that go into creating it. We have historical precedent that indicates that revelations do not really affect the general population's ability or motivation to involve or inject themselves into the stream of politics. For example, the Snowden revelations—which up to that time were considered a dystopian nightmare—seemed to have no effect on American politics, and a pessimistic assessment would be that it actually proved that the government can do anything it wants without fear from its subjects.

Our considered advice to our American comrades at this time is to focus on the well-being of yourself, your remaining family and close friends. Maintain your mental and physical health so that you can look after your loved ones. The "War on Domestic Terror" will be an establishment priority in 2021 under the Biden/Harris administration. Stay safe, friends. We need you strong and hearty for the road ahead.

As this article goes to layout, 25,000 National Guard, apparently with some kind of political pre-screening, [1] are in Washington D.C. for the inauguration in three days. We hope that over the years you have networked and met with trustworthy people, or at the very least strengthened your individual position against a variety of possibilities.
